Enforcement of the Fire Prevention System for the 66th Hokudai-sai

We have been informed by Hokkaido University Festival Executive Committee that this year's Hokudai-sai will be held for three days from June 7 to 9, Reiwa 6.

The Hokudai-sai is a large-scale event using the vast campus, with approximately 200 tents and 100,000 visitors every year. If fire accident occurs, a large number of people would be injured and the social impact would be extremely serious.

In the past Hokudai-sai, a tent was burnt down in a fire caused by overheated oil, and in recent years there have been several incidents of petrol leakage. That is why effective fire control measures are required.

In addition, there was a case of a fatal accident involving three victims at fireworks display with tents in Fukuchiyama City, Kyoto caused by mishandling of petrol when refilling a generator.

Therefore, when holding this year's Hokudai-sai, in order to further improve the fire prevention system, we will supervise students and participating groups with reference to the attached documents and instruct them to pay sufficient attention to safety measures for the general public.
